It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, taking into consideration the highly distinguished services rendered by Sir David Ocliterlony, Bart. a Major-General in the Army in the East Indies, and Knight Grand Cross of the Most Honourable Military litary Order of the Bath, on divers important occasions during a period of thirty-nine years, particularly in the course of those arduous operations of the Marhatta war, which conduced to the decisive victory gained by the British forces under the command of the late General Viscount Lake in the memorable conflict before Delhi, on 11th of September 1803, to the consequent surrender of that capital, and ~~the~~ the restoration of His Majesty Shah Alum to the throne of his ancestors; as also the proofs of wisdom and military talent afforded by this Officer during the subsequent defence of the said city against the whole force of Jeswont Rao Holkar, his prudent arrangements and disposition of the comparatively few troops under his orders, his judicious conduct, at so difficult a crisis, in the discharge of the high and important functions of British Resident at the Court of Delhi, combined with his great energy and animated personal exertions, to which was chiefly attributed the safety of that capital and of the person of Shah Alum, at a time when the loss either might have proved highly prejudicial to the public interests in Hindostan; and, further, the unremitting zeal, foresight, and decision manifested by the said Major-General, under circumstances of great difficulty, during the late contest with the State of Nepal, especially in that series of combined movements, during the nights of the 14th and 15th of April 1815, against the fortified positions of the Goorkah army on the heights of Malown, which led to the establishment of the British troops on that range of mountains, theretofore deemed to be impregnable, to the evacuation by the enemy of the fortresses of Malown and Jyetuck, to the defeat and surrender of Umr Singh Thappa, the Chief Commander of the hostile force, and to the successful and glorious termination of that campaign; and, lastly, the judgment, perseverance severance, and vigour displayed by the said Major-General, as Commander of the British forces, upon the renewal of the contest with the aforesaid State, the happy and triumphant results of which have been consolidated by a treaty of peace between the East India Company and the Rajah of Nepaul, highly beneficial to the interests of the British Empire in India, His Royal Highness, desirous, in addition to other marks of His royal approbation, of commemorating the faithful and important services of the said Major-General, by granting unto him certain honourable armorial augmentations, has been pleased to give and grant His Majesty's royal licence and permission, that he the said Sir David Ochterlony, and his descendants, may bear to the armorial ensigns of Ochterlony the honourable augmentations following, viz. "On an embattled chief two banners in saltire, the one of the Marhatta States, inscribed DELHI, the other of the State of Nepaul, inscribed NEPAUL, the staves broken and encircled by a wreath of laurel," with this motto to the arms, viz. "PRUDENTIA ET ANIMO;" and the crest of honourable augmentation following, viz. "Out of an eastern crown, inscribed NEPAUL, an arm issuant, the hand grasping a baton of command entwined by an olive branch;" provided the said armorial ensigns be first duly exemplified according to the laws of arms, otherwise the said royal licence to be void and of none effect:

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

His Royal Highness being seated on the throne, the Great Officers and others standing on the right and left, Sir Thomas Tyrwhitt, Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, was sent with a message from His Royal Highness to the House of Commons, commanding their attendance in the House of Peers. The Commons being come thither accordingly, His Royal High-

Highness, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, was pleased to deliver the following most gracious speech to both Houses of Parliament :

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

IT is with deep regret that I am again obliged to announce to you, that no alteration has occurred in the state of His Majesty's lamented indisposition.

I continue to receive from foreign powers the strongest assurances of their friendly disposition towards this country ; and of their earnest desire to maintain the general tranquillity.

The hostilities to which I was compelled to resort, in vindication of the honour of the country, against the Government of Algiers, have been attended with the most complete success.

The splendid achievement of His Majesty's fleet, in conjunction with a squadron of the King of the Netherlands, under the gallant and able conduct of Admiral Viscount Exmouth, led to the immediate and unconditional liberation of all Christian captives then within the territory of Algiers, and to the renunciation by its Government of the practice of Christian slavery.

I am persuaded that you will be duly sensible of the importance of an arrangement so interesting to humanity, and reflecting, from the manner in which it has been accomplished, such signal honour on the British nation.

In India the refusal of the Government of Nepal to ratify a treaty of peace, which had been signed by its Plenipotentiaries, occasioned a renewal of military operations.

The judicious arrangements of the Governor-General, seconded by the bravery and perseverance of His Majesty's forces, and of those of the East India Company, brought the campaign to a speedy and successful issue ; and peace has been finally esta-

established upon the just and honourable terms of the original treaty.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I have directed the estimates for the current year to be laid before you.

They have been formed upon a full consideration of all the present circumstances of the country, with an anxious desire to make every reduction in our establishments which the safety of the empire and sound policy allow.

I recommend the state of the public income and expenditure to your early and serious attention.

I regret to be under the necessity of informing you, that there has been a deficiency in the produce of the revenue in the last year; but I trust that it is to be ascribed to temporary causes; and I have the consolation to believe, that you will find it practicable to provide for the public service of the year, without making any addition to the burthens of the people, and without adopting any measure injurious to that system by which the public credit of the country has been hitherto sustained.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

I have the satisfaction of informing you, that the arrangements which were made in the last session of Parliament, with a view to a new silver coinage, have been completed with unprecedented expedition.

I have given directions for the immediate issue of the new coin, and I trust that this measure will be productive of considerable advantages to the trade and internal transactions of the country.

The distresses consequent upon the termination of a war of such unusual extent and duration have been felt, with greater or less severity, throughout all the nations of Europe; and have been considerably ably aggravated by the unfavourable state of the season.

Deeply as I lament the pressure of these evils upon this country, I am sensible that they are of a nature not to admit of an immediate remedy; but whilst I observe with peculiar satisfaction the fortitude with which so many privations have been borne, and the active benevolence which has been employed to mitigate them, I am persuaded that the great sources of our national prosperity are essentially unimpaired, and I entertain a confident expectation that the native energy of the country will at no distant period surmount all the difficulties in which we are involved.

In considering our internal situation, you will, I doubt not, feel a just indignation at the attempts which have been made to take advantage of the distresses of the country, for the purpose of exciting a spirit of sedition and violence.

I am too well convinced of the loyalty and good sense of the great body of His Majesty's subjects, to believe them capable of being perverted by the arts which are employed to seduce them; but I am determined to omit no precautions for preserving the public peace, and for counteracting the designs of the disaffected. and I rely with the utmost confidence on your cordial support and co-operation, in upholding a system of law and government, from which we have derived inestimable advantages, which has enabled us to conclude, with unexampled glory, a contest whereon depended the best interests of mankind, and which has been hitherto felt by ourselves, as it is acknowledged by other nations, to be the most perfect that has ever fallen to the lot of any people.

Carlton-House, February 5, 1817.

This day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Recorder, Sheriffs; and City Officers, waited upon His Royal Highness the Prince Regent with the following Address, which was read by Sir John Silvester, Bart. the Recorder.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales;
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Court of Lord Mayor and Aldermen of the City of London.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Lord Mayor and Aldermen of the City of London, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with profound sentiments of duty and respect, to express our horror and indignation at the most daring and flagitious outrage offered to your Royal Person, at the moment of your return from the House of Parliament on the occasion of your Royal Highness exercising the sacred duties of the Crown, and fulfilling, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, the very important function of one of the estates of the realm.

With the deepest concern we have to deplore, that any one should be found within His Majesty's dominions capable of violence so atrocious, so disgraceful to human nature, so foreign to the British character; and we most fervently hope, that the loyalty of the subjects of the United Empire will manifest itself to prevent a repetition of an attempt so base against the sacred person of your Royal Highness.

We beg permission to add, that nothing shall be wanting on our part as Magistrates of the metropolis of the empire, to promote on all occasions the general tranquillity, and to evince our steady loyalty and attachment to your Royal House and Person, and our determination to support the crown and dignity of these realms.
B 2 polis

Signed, by order of Court,
Henry Woodthorpe.

To which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

“ I thank you for this loyal and dutiful Address.

“ It is highly satisfactory to me to receive upon this occasion, and at the present conjuncture, these assurances of your steady attachment to me and my family, and of your determination to promote obedience to the laws, and to afford firm support to the Crown, the prerogatives of which are inseparably connected with the liberties and best interests of the people.”

They were all received very graciously, and had the honour of kissing the hand of His Royal Highness.

The humble Address of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, humbly approach your Royal Highness with renewed assurances of our unfeigned veneration and respect.

Yielding to none of His Majesty's subjects in loyalty and attachment to your Royal Highness as the representative of our venerable and beloved Sovereign, we have contemplated with the greatest detestation the daring and flagitious assault offered to your Royal Highness on your late return from Parliament, by which your Royal Highness's person was endangered, while exercising one of the most sacred and important duties attached to your Royal Highness's station as the Regent of the United Kingdom.

We most earnestly pray, that the perpetrators of an act so atrocious in its nature may speedily be delivered over to the justice of their country; and that Divine Providence may preserve your Royal Highness for many years, and cause you to live in the affections of a generous and loyal people. And we assure your Royal Highness, that there are not in this United Kingdom men more determined, at any sacrifice, to protect your Royal Highness's person, and to preserve inviolate the Constitution and the Laws, than His Majesty's faithful Citizens of London.

Signed, by order of Court,

Henry Woodthorpe.

To which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer;

“ I return you my warmest thanks for this loyal and dutiful Address.

“ Whilst I have to lament a flagrant violation of the laws, I cannot but derive the highest satisfaction from the fresh demonstrations which it has so generally called forth, of zealous attachment to me me and to my family, and of a firm determination to protect and uphold our invaluable Constitution."

They were all very graciously received, and had the honour of kissing His Royal Highness's hand.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Oxford, beg leave to approach the Throne with expressions of unfeigned attachment to His Majesty, and to your Royal Highness's Person, Family, and Government.

We contemplate, with feelings of indignation and

and abhorrence, the wicked and traitorous outrage which has recently been committed against your Royal Highness's sacred person, at the very moment when your Royal Highness was in the exercise of that function of your high office by which the Sovereign is most immediately connected with his people, and which is, above all others, calculated to excite in their breasts the sentiments of duty, loyalty, and affection.

We deplore the turbulent spirit of discontent, from which this atrocious and treasonable attempt has been derived ; a spirit which seeks, under the delusive pretext of reform, to disturb the public security and peace, and which, by insulting at once the dignity of the Throne, and the authority of Parliament, has violated the sanctity of the laws, and the fundamental principles of our free and happy Constitution.

To maintain these principles inviolate, and to inculcate them into the minds of those committed to our charge, such as they have been handed down to us by our ancestors, will ever be our most anxious care ; and while we return thanks to Almighty God, who hath now preserved your Royal Highness, we pray that your invaluable life may long be spared for the happiness of His Majesty's subjects, and for the tranquillity and prosperity of His Government both in Church and State.

Given at our House of Convocation, under our Common Seal, this 4th day of February in the year of our Lord 1817.

To which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

“ I return you my cordial thanks for this loyal and dutiful Address.

“ I acknowledge with humble gratitude, the pro-protection recently vouchsafed to me by Divine Providence; and I cannot fail to derive the highest satisfaction from the feelings so generally manifested on this occasion throughout the country; equally distinguished as it is for the manly and generous character of its people, and for their zealous attachment to its Constitution and Laws.

“ The sentiments which you have expressed are most acceptable to me; and I am confident that you will continue firmly to maintain, and sedulously to inculcate those principles which form the only solid basis of private virtue and public prosperity.”

Carlton-House, February 18, 1817.

This day the Address of the University of Cambridge, congratulating His Royal Highness the Prince Regent on His escape from the late atrocious attempt against the sacred person of His Royal Highness, was presented by His Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester, Chancellor of the University; Rev. Under Secretary of State; Doctors Scott, S. Clarke, Ainslie, Haviland, and Larchin; Professors Hallstone, Monck, and Jackson; Rev. Messrs. George D'Oyley, W. Antrobus, Currey, Tavel, and upwards of two hundred others, educated at the University.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales.
 REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Chancellor, Masters and Scholars of the University of Cambridge, humbly approach the Throne, to express our feelings of indignation and abhorrence, excited by the late atrocious attempt against the sacred Person of your Royal Highness.

When we consider the occasion selected for the perpetration of this foul and daring crime, that it was the moment after your Royal Highness had met, in solemn assembly, the venerable authorities of the British Nation, convened for the public good; we are convinced that the blow, while aimed at your Royal Highness, was designed also for the destruction of the Liberties of our Country. Impressed with these sentiments, we gratefully acknowledge the over-ruling hand of that gracious Providence who has preserved a Life so dear to us, and so nearly nearly connected with our most valuable rights and privileges.

We hoped that, taught by the calamities of a neighbouring state, it would have been the endeavour of all to secure the blessings of national tranquillity ; but we learn, by fatal experience, that there are to be found, men of such abandoned profligacy, as still to be occupied in schemes of anarchy and violence ; and whom no warnings of example or considerations of humanity, can turn aside from their flagitious purposes.

We witness with disgust and horror the numerous artifices employed to seduce and pervert the illiterate and unwary ; to inflame their evil passions ; and to infuse into their minds, principles calculated to overturn every form of civilized Society. Even the distress arising from the visitations of Providence has been wickedly ascribed to the misconduct of their rulers.

The Almighty Disposer of Events has hitherto frustrated their dark designs, and we trust that the firmness of your Royal Highness, the energy of His Majesty's Government, and the co-operation of his loyal subjects in every rank of life, will, under the guidance of the same gracious Providence, preserve that Constitution in Church and State, which is our best inheritance and our greatest blessing.

While doctrines of anarchy and misrule are disseminated with such malignant industry, the duty which our station most imperiously requires of us, and which we hope faithfully to discharge, is to instruct those whose education is entrusted to our care, in sound principles of religion and loyalty ; and to impress forcibly upon their minds, the value of that civil Constitution which has been productive of so much individual happiness and national glory. And we beg leave to assure your Royal Highness, that should we be called upon for other exertions, we are ready to join heart and hand, in defence of our Liberties and our Laws, of the Altar and the Throne, with those good and virtuous men who fear God and honour the King.

Given under our common seal, the 6th day of February 1817.

To which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

“ I return you my warmest thanks for this loyal and dutiful Address.

“ It is impossible for me to reflect, without deep regret, on the late flagrant violation of the laws; but the prevalent feelings of my mind are those of humble gratitude for the protection of Almighty God, and of heartfelt satisfaction at the fresh proofs of loyalty, and of attachment to the Constitution, which have been displayed upon this occasion throughout the kingdom. That you ardently participate in those sentiments I am perfectly convinced; and I have an equal reliance on the continuance of your endeavours to impress upon those, with whose education you are entrusted, a just sense of the value of that Constitution, in Church and State, from which has been derived, during a long period of years, the largest portion of individual happiness, and of public prosperity, that it has ever fallen to the lot of any country to enjoy.”

March 1817,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the present session of Parliament, intituled " An Act to " continue and extend the provisions of an Act,
" of the forty-ninth year of His present Majesty,
" for regulating the trade and commerce to and " from the Cape of Good Hope, until the fifth " day of July one thousand eight hundred and " twenty; and also for regulating the trade of the " Island of Mauritius;" His Majesty is authorised, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, by any Order or Orders to be issued from time to time, to give such directions, and make such regulations touching the trade and commerce to and from all islands, colonies, or places, and the territories and dependencies thereof, to His Majesty belonging or in His possession, in Africa, or Asia to the eastward of the Cape of Good Hope (excepting only the possessions of the East India Company), as to His Majesty, in Council, shall appear most expedient and salutary, any thing contained in an Act, passed in the twelfth year of the reign of His Majesty King Charles the Second, intituled " An Act for the encouraging and increasing of shipping and navigation," or in an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign 1817. M of

of His Majesty King William the Third, intituled
 " An Act for preventing frauds, and regulating
 " abuses in the plantation trade," or any other Act or Acts of Parliament now in force, relating to His Majesty's colonies and plantations, or any other Act or Acts of Parliament, law, usage or custom to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding :
 and whereas on the night of the twenty-fifth of September last, a dreadful fire broke out in the town of Port Lewis, in the Island of Mauritius, which totally destroyed the chief part of that town, together with a great mass of provisions and merchandise intended for the consumption and trade of its inhabitants, whereby a great number of families were reduced to extreme indigence, and left without a home ; in consequence of which dreadful calamity the Governor of the said Island found himself compelled to open the ports of the Island to foreign vessels, in order to afford the speediest relief of which the case would admit, and thereby to save His Majesty's subjects residing in that colony from the greatest extremity of distress ; and whereas it is expedient that facilities should in consequence be granted to the trade of the Island of Mauritius, for a limited time, with the view of giving still further relief to its suffering inhabitants ;
 His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that all vessels, whether British or foreign vessels belonging to countries in amity with His Majesty, arriving at any port of the Island of Mauritius, or its dependencies, within twelve months from the date of this present Order, from any country in amity with His Majesty, laden with any articles the growth, production, or manufacture of any such country, excepting all articles composed of cotton, iron, steel, or wool of foreign manufacture, shall be permitted to

to enter and land their cargoes, and dispose of the same, in the said ports ; provided always, that such articles, when imported in a foreign ship, shall pay a duty of two per cent. ad valorem, over and above what may be payable upon similar goods when imported in a British ship.

And it is further ordered, that every such vessel, arriving as aforesaid, shall be permitted to export a cargo, consisting of any articles of the growth, produce, or manufacture of the Island of Mauritius, or its dependencies, or of any other articles which shall have been legally imported there ; and that all such articles so exported in foreign vessels, shall in like manner be subject to a duty of two per cent. ad valorem, over and above the duties (if any) which shall be payable on similar articles when exported from the Mauritius, or its dependencies, in British vessels.

It is, however, hereby further ordered and declared, that no foreign vessel, allowed by the terms of this Order to export a cargo from the Island of Mauritius, or its dependencies, shall be permitted to export such cargo to any of His Majesty's possessions. But that every British vessel which shall during the continuance of this present Order, have imported a cargo into any port of the said Island of Mauritius, or its dependencies, either from the United Kingdom, or from any other place, shall be permitted to carry back a return cargo, consisting of the articles aforesaid, to any place whatever, either belonging to His Majesty, or to any state in amity with His Majesty. THIS day the Address of the Bishop of London, Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's, and Clergy of the Cities of London and Westminster, expressing to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent their indignation and abhorrence at the late atrocious and traitorous violence offered to His Royal Highness's sacred person, was presented by the Lord Bishop of London, attended by the Honourable Dr. Wellesley, Canon Residentiary of St. Paul's; Messrs. Archdeacons Pott, Wollaston, Cambridge, and Jefferson; Dr. Goddard, Mr. Jones, Mr. Lendon, Mr. Wood, and Mr. Oakeley, Prebendaries of St. Paul's; the President of Sion College, the Deans of Canterbury and Chester, Dr. Gaskin, Dr. Hamilton, Dr. Rose, Dr. Owen, Dr. Heslop, Dr. Willis, Dr. Fly, and about 1817. N sixty

sixty other Beneficed Clergy of London and Westminster.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful subjects, the Bishop of London, the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's, and the Clergy of the Cities of London and Westminster, profoundly impressed with the sentiments of affectionate and loyal attachment to your Royal Highness's Person and Government, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, and to express our indignation and abhorrence at the atrocious and traitorous violence offered to your Royal Highness's sacred Person, on your return from the solemn exercise of one of the highest and most important functions of the Sovereign authority.

In this disgraceful violation of the laws, injurious alike to the Majesty of the Throne, and the dignity of Parliament, we recognise an immediate effect of that malignant activity, which is still incessantly exerted in flagitious attempts to corrupt the principles, to mislead the judgment, and to inflame the passions of the lower orders. We have long contemplated with disgust the multiplied artifices of misrepresentation, falsehood, and calumny, directed against the conduct of the Government, the administration of the laws, and the characters of the most exalted Individuals, with a view to excite disaffection, distrust, and disturbance throughout the kingdom: nor can we refrain from more particularly expressing our horror at the persevering endeavour to poison the sources of virtuous sentiment, by means of blasphemous publications, adapted to the capacities of the ignorant, for the purpose of bringing contempt on Religion, and thus preparing the way for the commission of the worst crimes. We have nevertheless, the consolation to believe, that the great body of the people, untainted by irreligion or disloyalty, retains an unshaken attachmenttachment to the Constitution in Church and State, and duly appreciates the blessings of pure religion and rational liberty which we have received from our ancestors, and have hitherto, through the mercy of Providence, been enabled to defend with success against every enemy. We are not indeed without hope, that the distress, originating in causes above human controul, which has for a time afflicted the country, may be ultimately productive of advantage. The paternal solicitude of your Royal Highness to relieve the sufferings of the people, and the zealous exertions of the more opulent classes in promoting the same beneficent views, will undoubtedly have their effect, in extending among all ranks of society, the harmony of feeling and unity of interest, which constitute the strength and security of the State.

For ourselves, we humbly presume to assure your Royal Highness, that, deeply sensible of our obligations, as the legitimate guardians of Religion and Morals in this great metropolis, we shall make it our constant endeavour, in the faithful discharge of this important trust, to maintain in their genuine purity, among the people committed to our care, the spirit and doctrines of Christianity, and the principles of loyalty and virtue.

To which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

“ I receive with the greatest satisfaction this dutiful and loyal Address.

“ The Ministers of our holy religion could not fail to participate in the feeling, so generally expressed at the late atrocious violation of the laws.

“ You have duly appreciated the dependance of civil duties on the principles of sound morality and pure religion; and I rely on your exertions and example to counteract the machinations of the licentious and profane, and to hold up our National Church to the esteem and reverence of a loyal and virtuous people."

They were all most graciously received, and the principal Clergy had the honour to kiss His Royal Highness's hand.

Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Protestant Dissenting Ministers of the three denominations, residing in and about the Cities of London and Westminster, beg permission to approach your Royal Highness, to express our abhorrence of the atrocious outrages committed against your Royal Highness, when exercising one of the most important functions of your elevated office.

As Ministers of the peaceable and beneficent Religion of our holy Redeemer, we feel ourselves bound publicly to declare our detestation of every act that tends to endanger the tranquillity of our country, the authority of the laws, and the stability of the Constitution: and we are solicitous to express to your Royal Highness our deep conviction, that to promote the knowledge and the sincere practice of that Religion, to the advancement and diffusion of which we have consecrated our lives, will ever be found the most efficacious means of preventing political disorder, and of promoting the peace and happiness of all classes of the Community, from the lowest to the most exalted.

His Majesty's Protestant Dissenting subjects were among the earliest, and have always been among the most faithful adherents to your Royal Highness's illustrious family. We are deeply sensible of the many blessings which our fathers and ourselves have enjoyed under the Princes of the House of Brunswick, and we fervently pray, that the future glories of your Royal Highness's Government, and that of your descendants, may be signalized by the uninterrupted enjoyment of rational liberty, pure religion, and universal happiness.

Signed on behalf of the general body, by the Deputation.

To which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :

" I thank you for this loyal and dutiful Address.

" The sentiments which you have expressed on the late flagrant violation of the laws are highly satisfactory to me; and I rely with confidence on your earnest solicitude for the maintenance of the public tranquillity, and on your steady attachment to our invaluable Constitution."

Serjeants at Arms.

His Royal Highness being seated on the throne, the Great Officers and others standing on the right and left, Sir Thomas Tyrwhitt, Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, was sent with a message from His Royal Highness to the House of Commons, commanding their attendance in the House of Peers. The Commons being come thither accordingly, His Royal Highness, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, was pleased to give the Royal assent to

An Act for applying certain monies therein mentioned, for the service of the year one thousand eight hundred and seventeen; and for further appropriating the supplies granted in this session of Parliament.

An Act to encourage the establishment of banks for savings in England.

An Act for the better regulation of polls, and for making other provisions touching the election of Members to serve in Parliament for places in Ireland.

After which His Royal Highness delivered the following most gracious speech to both Houses of Parliament :

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

I cannot close this session of Parliament without renewing my expressions of deep regret at the continuance of His Majesty's lamented indisposition.

The diligence with which you have applied yourselves to the consideration of the different objects which I recommended to your attention, at the commencement of the session, demands my warmest acknowledgements; and I have no doubt that the favourable change which is happily taking place in our internal situation is to be mainly ascribed to the salutary measures which you have adopted for preserving the public tranquillity, and to your steady ad-

adherence to those principles by which the Constitution, resources, and credit of the country have been hitherto preserved and maintained.

Notwithstanding the arts and industry which have been too successfully exerted, in some parts of the country, to alienate the affections of His Majesty's subjects, and to stimulate them to acts of violence and insurrection, I have had the satisfaction of receiving the most decisive proofs of the loyalty and public spirit of the great body of the people; and the patience with which they have sustained the most severe temporary distress cannot be too highly commended.

I am fully sensible of the confidence which you have manifested towards me by the extraordinary powers which you have placed in my hands; the necessity which has called for them is to me matter of deep regret; and you may rely on my making a temperate, but effectual, use of them, for the protection and security of His Majesty's loyal subjects.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I thank you for the supplies which you have granted to me; and for the laborious investigation which, at my recommendation, you have made into the state of the income and expenditure of the country.

It has given me sincere pleasure to find that you have been enabled to provide for every branch of the public service without any addition to the burthens of the people.

The state of public credit affords a decisive proof of the wisdom and expediency, under all the present circumstances, of those financial arrangements which you have adopted.

I have every reason to believe that the deficiency in the revenue is, in a great degree, to be ascribed to the unfavourable state of the last season; and I look

look forward with sanguine expectations to its gradual improvement.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

The measures which were in progress at the commencement of the Session, for the issue of a new silver coinage, have been carried into execution in a manner which has given universal satisfaction; and to complete the system which has been sanctioned by Parliament, a gold coinage of a new denomination has been provided for the convenience of the public.

I continue to receive from Foreign Powers the strongest assurances of their friendly disposition towards this country, and of their desire to preserve the general tranquillity.

The prospect of an abundant harvest throughout a considerable part of the Continent is in the highest degree satisfactory. This happy dispensation of Providence cannot fail to mitigate, if not wholly to remove, that pressure under which so many of the Nations of Europe have been suffering in the course of the last year; and I trust that we may look forward in consequence to an improvement in the commercial relations of this and of all other countries.

I cannot allow you to separate without recommending to you, that upon your return to your several counties you should use your utmost endeavours to defeat all attempts to corrupt and mislead the lower classes of the community; and that you should lose no opportunity of inculcating amongst them that spirit of concord and obedience to the laws, which is not less essential to their happiness, as individuals, than it is indispensable to the general welfare and prosperity of the kingdom.

Then

(209)

Then the Lord Chancellor, by the Prince Regent's command, said;

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

It is the will and pleasure of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, acting in the name and on behalf of His Majesty, that this Parliament be prorogued to Monday the 25th day of August next, to be then here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Monday the 25th day of August next.

By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHEREAS it hath been represented unto Us, that divers misgilded persons, in some of the midland counties of England, have of late years committed various acts of outrage, in breaking and destroying frames used in making stockings, lace, and other articles in the frame-worked-knitted manufactory, and that, among other instances of such outrages, a most heinous one was committed on the night of the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand eight hundred and sixteen, at Loughborough, when a large number of such frames was broken, and an attempt was made to murder one of the persons entrusted with the care of them; and whereas it hath been further represented unto Us, that such outrages have for the most part been prompted by a desire, on the part of the journeymen employed in the said manufactory, to dictate to their masters the terms on which the manufactory should be carried on, or the prices at which work should be done, which dictation is utterly inconsistent with the principles of justice, and destructive of the freedom and prosperity of trade; and whereas measures have been taken by the wisdom of His Majesty's Parliament for repressing such outrages in future, by increasing the punishment for the same; and in the hope that such measures will effectually deter persons from the future commission of such offences, We are desirous of extending His Majesty's most gracious pardon to all those who have hitherto offended herein, except as hereinafter is mentioned: We have therefore thought fit, by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, to issue this Proclamation, and in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, We do hereby promise and declare, that every person who hath committed any offence against the form of the Statute made in the fifty-fourth year of His Majesty's reign, for the punishment of persons destroying stocking or lace frames, but hath not yet been charged therewith, and who shall, previous to the first day of September next ensuing, appear before some Justice of the Peace or Magistrate, and declare such his offence, and when, where, and by whom the same was committed, shall receive His Majesty's most gracious pardon for such offence, and that no confession so made by any such person shall be given in evidence in any Court or in any case whatever; provided nevertheless that nothing herein contained shall extend to the offence so committed at Loughborough as aforesaid, nor to any other offence, except such as may have been committed contrary to the said Statute made in the fifty-fourth year aforesaid.

1817. E e men

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the fifteenth day of July one thousand eight hundred and seventeen, in the fifty-seventh year of His Majesty's reign.

PRESENT,

Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, cap. 57, intituled " An Act to empower His Majesty to suspend training, and to regulate the quotas of the militia," it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for His Majesty, by any Order or Orders in Council, to suspend the calling out of the militia of the United Kingdom, or any part of the United Kingdom, or of any county, riding, shire, stewartry, city, town, or place, for the purpose of being trained and exercised in any year, and to order and direct that no training or exercising of the militia of the United Kingdom, or of any county or counties, riding or ridings, shire or shires, stewartry or stewartries, city or cities, town or towns, or place or places, specified in any such Order or Orders in Council, shall take place in any year, any thing contained in any Act or Acts of Parliament relating to the militia, to the contrary notwithstanding : And whereas it is deemed expedient that such training and exercising should be dispensed with in the present year ; it is ordered by His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, that the calling out of the militia of that part of the United Kingdom called Great Britain, for the purpose of being trained and exercised in the present year, be suspended, and that no training or exercising of the said militia do take place in the present year.

Copy of a Dispatch from Captain George Sydenham, Political Agent in Berar, to Mr. Elphinstone (no date), with an Inclosure.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to forward to you a copy of Captain Davies's report of a very brilliant and successful attack, which he lately made on the insurgent horse in Candeish.

As the enemy have left the frontier, the troops engaged in the attack have for the present been recalled to Aurungabad. The Risala, which was on the way to join them, has been stationed at Kannur, and the post at the Gootalla Ghaut in its front, strengthened by a company of regular infantry. My hirkarrahs are watching the enemy's movements, and if they should again approach the frontier the Nizam's troops will be reinforced.

I have the honour to be, &c.

GEORGE SYDENHAM, Agent in Berar.

SIR,

Camp, April 21, 1817.

I HAVE the honour to report, that in pursuance of the intention expressed in my letter to your address of the 19th instant, I put the infantry in motion for the Gootalla Ghaut, at three o'clock that afternoon, following myself with about six hundred horse, at four o'clock, and reached Saegaon, a village belonging to Moorteza Yor Jung, about six miles from the foot of the Ghaut, at ten o'clock at night, where I waited one hour to collect the men, who had scattered, owing to the badness of the Ghaut. By the *Patell of this village I was informed, that the enemy had stationed mounted videttes at every village between that place and their camp, which was about twelve coss distant, but that there was a road leading to it through the jungle, frequented only by *Brinjarries, by which I might advance unobserved, and he offered to conduct me: I accordingly mounted him on a horse, and proceeding by the route he pointed out, arrived at the village they were reported to be encamped at, ten coss distant, a little after day-break, when I found that they had marched from thence the evening before to Gunnaispoor, about two coss. I advanced with five or six horsemen to reconnoitre, leaving orders with Captain Pedlar, to bring up the horse, and desiring Captain Pedlar to leave the knapsacks of the infantry in a ravine, and to follow with the utmost expedition: I had advanced about a mile, when I discovered one of the patrols of the enemy, whom I immediately pursued, and took two of them prisoners; a third man escaped through the jungle to the left; from the two prisoners I ascertained, that the enemy had their horses ready saddled, but had not received any information of our approach. I sent back to desire Captain Pedlar to advance at a brisk pace; he overtook me in a short time, and we pushed on at a smart canter, and in ascending a rising ground perceived the enemy drawn up to receive us, their right flank protected by a strong †gurhee, into which they had thrown some infantry, and their front covered by a ‡nullah with steep banks. As they considerably out numbered us, being about two thousand strong, and chiefly armed with matchlocks, I determined upon instantly charging them with the sabes, and accordingly ordered the men to sling their matchlocks, and advance in as compact a body as the nature of the ground, which was covered with low jungle, would admit of; on receiving this order our line advanced at full speed, every man endeavouring to be first on the enemy: they fired a few shots from their matchlocks as we were crossing the nullah, which fortunately passed over us without doing any injury. The instant we got over the nullah the enemy broke and fled in all directions, and were pursued upwards of three coos, sustaining a loss of above two hundred men killed, besides a great number of wounded; amongst the latter was a person who appeared to be a Chief of consequence, called by his own men Appa Sabah, and who when wounded threw down his spear, and being well mounted made his escape. Finding the enemy by this time completely dispersed, I ordered the pursuit to cease, and the men to return to the enemy's camp.

Having been wounded during the pursuit, I had dismounted to tie up my arm, when I was informed that a fresh body of the enemy was coming down on our right; I ordered Captain Robinson, who had arrived with the infantry during the pursuit, to fall in his men. I mounted, and collecting as many of the horse as I could, advanced with the infantry in column left in front, and the horse formed in line on the left of the infantry, about five miles, when I found Risaldar Alum Alie Khan, and first Jemadar Meer Suffiker Ali had collected about two hundred men on the banks of a nullah, with whom they kept the enemy in check, by a fire from their matchlocks: the instant they saw our line advancing they went off at speed in a north-westerly direction; and our horses being completely jaded, by the length of the march and pursuit, I considered it usely to follow them.

A few prisoners were taken, from whom I learnt that

that the body of horse collected, which they stated to be two thousand, was commanded by Godajee Row, a nephew of Trimbuckjee Dainglia, and that Trimbuckjee himself was shortly expected to join them with a large reinforcement. The body of horse which threatened to renew the combat were said to consist of five hundred, which had been detached to a village at some distance, with about three hundred of the fugitives who had rallied. One of the prisoners also stated that they had been joined, the evening before, by about one hundred and fifty horse from the southward; that a body of Arabs, from Mullegaon, was expected in two days; and that Godajee Row Dainglia had written to Setoo for assistance, who had promised to send him a large body of Pindarries.

I am happy to say the loss on our part was as little as can be expected; and, I should imagine, it can not exceed ten men killed, and twenty or twenty-five wounded; amongst the latter, I regret to state, is Captain Pedlar, severely.

I shall have the honour to forward a return* of the killed and wounded as soon as it can be prepared.

I cannot close this dispatch without expressing the high sense I entertain of the assistance I received from Captain Pedlar and Lieutenant Rind, who joined me as a volunteer on this occasion; the former of whom had charge of the right, and the latter of the left wing. I have much pleasure in assuring you, that although we had marched upwards of fifty miles before the attack commenced, not a man of the infantry had fallen in the rear; and I feel convinced, from the eagerness they displayed on the occasion, that if an opportunity had offered, they would have afforded me every assistance.

* Not yet received.

The behaviour of both Officers and men, composing the detachment of reformed horse with me in this affair, exceeded my most sanguine expectations. There was not a single Officer who did not distinguish himself, and they were most gallantly supported by their men.

I have the honour to be, &c.

Captain, commanding the Reformed Horse.

Copy of a Dispatch from Colonel Lionel Smith, of His Majesty's 65th Regiment, commanding the Poona Subsidiary Force, to Mr. Elphinstone, with three Inclosures.

SIR, Camp, Guardoon, April 23, 1817.

I HAVE the highest satisfaction in laying before you two dispatches, which I received late last night from Major H. Smith, of the 1st battalion 14th regiment Madras Native Infantry commanding a detachment of six companies, composed of Bombay and Madras troops, which had been sent out from the reserve against a large body of horse in the service of Trimbuckjee Dainglia, and announcing the result of his persevering exertions, in completely putting the whole to rout, killing and wounding about seventy men, making some prisoners, and capturing a quantity of baggage and arms, and many horses.

I cannot sufficiently praise the excellent conduct of Major Smith and his detachment, and trust their services on this occasion may prove acceptable to the Right Honourable the Governor General.

I have, &c.

LIONEL SMITH, Colonel.

P. S. I have the further honour to inclose a copy of orders I considered due to the detachment.

*Camp at Pattre, April 18, 1817,
Two A. M.*

SIR,

AS you are already apprised of my having marched from camp with a detachment, consisting of six hundred rank and file, on the evening of the 12th instant, in pursuit of a body of horse of suspicious character, which by report amounted to five thousand, I proceed to detail my movements accordingly.

After marching the greater part of that night, I reached Cambergaum on the Beemah on the morning of the 13th, when I fortunately succeeded in falling into the track of the fugitives, who had taken the direction of the Carrungee Ghaut, east of Nugger. On my arrival at the top of the pass, at eight P. M. on the evening of the 15th, I found the party had gone down it the evening before, and though I was not disposed to relax for a moment in the pursuit, yet the difficulties I had to surmount, from the extreme bad state of the roads, winding over hills, and through stony by paths, induced me to halt, for a few hours, to refresh the men, who appeared much fatigued. At two A. M. however, of the 16th, I descended the Ghaut, and did not reach the village of Sirsee, which lies at the bottom, until broad day-break ; there I gained information of their having struck into the great road to Toka, though I was previously assured that they were directing their course to Pictim on the Goodavery, with the intention of crossing at that place. I halted again at Moaz on the Toka road to give the detachment rest, with a determination to make a final effort to overtake the fugitives, if possible, before they crossed the river river : while here I received information of their having again deviated from their route, and gone to Garetagaum, due west of that place, and eight coss from Moaz ; we were again in motion at five P. M. ; and on my arrival at Garetagaum I learnt that they had halted there the night before : having satisfied myself of the correctness of this information, I continued my route to the westward ; and although nearly two hours were lost by our guides taking the detachment a wrong road, yet I conceived that there was still a possibility of coming up to the pursued before day-break of the 17th. In this supposition, I am happy to say, I was not deceived, for at three o'clock I instructed two of my commissioned and non-commissioned confidential officers to enter a village in disguise, who seized upon a man, whom I afterwards compelled, by threats, to conduct us to the Marhatta camp, which I had reason to suppose was about four or five miles off.

During the time we were going this distance I made the necessary arrangements for an attack in three divisions, by the two in front, consisting of the flank companies of the 14th Madras, and two companies of the 3d Bombay N. I. under Captains Smyth and Deschamps, diverging from the head of the column to the right and left on entering the encampment, and by directing the 3d division, two companies of the 2d Bombay N. I. under Captain Spears, to move steadily into its centre without breaking, with a view to this division becoming a point upon which the others might rally in case of necessity.

On coming within two miles of the village of Pattre, the forces of the encampment were clearly discernible, upon which the column moved forward with a hastened step, and shortly before daylight entered the inclosures of the village. It was then that we plainly perceived that the Marhatta or Pin-

Madras horse were either mounted or mounting for battle; under these circumstances no time was to be lost, and being then only a few paces as I supposed from their rear picket, I directed Lieutenant Beach to give them a volley from the front rank of the leading division; having previously ordered the front ranks only of the leading divisions of the 3d and 14th to load; this was accordingly done, and the column immediately after rushed forward to the charge. The horse fled in all directions, leaving fifty or sixty killed and wounded on the ground. They were pursued for some distance, when the exhausted state of the men, and the scattered order which they were necessarily obliged to assume for a pursuit, induced me to concentrate my little force; and I was the more persuaded of the propriety of this measure from observing considerable bodies of horse, apparently well organized, in commanding situations on our flanks. This arrangement I presume induced them to draw off, nor did I deem it right or expedient to continue a pursuit after a fresh body of horse, with infantry jaded and exhausted from our long marches, continued for five successive days and nights.

At ten or eleven, A. M. we were called to arms by the re-appearance of a body of about two hundred well mounted horse, in promiscuous order, who after firing a few shots from their matchlocks at the party brought out to keep them in check, retired.

I omitted to mention before, that this body of horse, which could not have been less than four thousand, murdered Lieutenant Warre, of the Madras Artillery, and his sepoy guard, at the village of Soonic, on the evening of the 16th, a few hours prior to my passing through it; and that they plundered all the smaller unprotected villages on their route from the southward to Patre.

Some baggage, a quantity of arms, and from 1817. M m one

one hundred to one hundred and fifty horses of different descriptions, were left on the ground; the greatest part of which were pillaged by the villagers in the neighbourhood during the pursuit, &c.

I am happy to add, that we met with no casualties, with the exception of one non-commissioned officer of the 2d Bombay N. I. wounded.

Had we not unfortunately been led out of the route by the guides, as before mentioned, we should in all probability have found the enemy less prepared for flight, and consequently have been enabled to give a better account of them; as it is, however, I hope you will give me credit when I assure you, that every exertion was made by both Officers and men for the public service; and I feel great pleasure in having this opportunity of bearing testimony to the cheerfulness with which they bore the fatigues, and the zeal and alacrity with which the Officers performed their several duties.

I estimate the distance traversed by the detachment, to be about one hundred and fifty miles, including the morning it marched with the camp, and during the last twenty-four hours, it actually marched forty-one miles, not including the pursuit.

In concluding, I beg you will excuse the prolixity of this report, and have the honour to remain, Sir, your most obedient servant,

H. SMITH,

Major 14th, commanding detachment.

SIR,

Camp Soonie, April 19, 1817.

I HAVE the honour to report, that since my letter, of yesterday's date, I received information that the body of horse, who were attacked on the morning of the 17th, fled in such haste immediately after that affair, that they crossed the Go-

Godavery in the direction of Nassuck ; I consequently deemed any further pursuit of little use, and accordingly left Pattre, and arrived here yesterday.

I have the honour further to mention, that the number of killed and wounded found on the ground, and in the neighbourhood of Pattre, has been ascertained to have exceeded seventy ; and presume, from the nature of the attack, that many of those who fled must have been wounded also.

I have the honour to be, &c.

H. SMITH,

Major 14th Reg. commanding detachment.

Colonel Lionel Smith.

Extract from Division Orders by Colonel Lionel Smith, commanding the Poonah Subsidiary Force.

Camp, near Dound, 23d April, 1817.

THE Commanding Officer has great satisfaction in announcing to the force, the successful operations of the detachment under Major H. Smith, of the first battalion of the fourteenth Madras Native Infantry, which consists of two companies of the first battalion of the second Bombay Native Infantry, two companies of the first battzalion of the third Bombay Native Infantry, and the flank companies of the first battalion of the fourteenth Madras Native Infantry, and was detached from the Reserve on the evening of the 12th instant, against a body of horse rated at three or four thousand strong, in the service of Trimbuckjee Dainglia.

After four successive days and nights marching, over a distance of one hundred and fifty miles, this detachment, on the morning of the 17th, came upon the enemy, killed and wounded seventy, took several prisoners of consequence, a quantity of arms and baggage, and many horses.

Colonel Smith. never troubles the troops with idle praise, he hopes therefore that the sincerity with which he applauds the steady perseverance, the cool judgement, and military skill of Major Smith upon this occasion, and the conspicuous exertions of the officers and soldiers under him, may prove the more acceptable.

With equal sincerity and in the name of his superiors, he requests the Major and all the officers and men of his detachment to receive his very grateful thanks.

The march of these six companies at this season of the year, will become memorable and useful. Its result, both in exertions and success, has been truly honorable, and they have all zealously upheld the character of the excellent battalions they belong to.

True Extract,

H. TOVEY,

Deputy Adjutant-General.

Extract of a Dispatch from Mr. Elphinstone, to the Governor General, dated April 26, 1817.

THE body of Trimbuckjee's horse that was pursued by Colonel Smith, crossed the Neera, at a place to the south-west of Barramutty, and the Beema at Coomargong; some parties and many individuals separated from them about this place and beyond it, apparently with the intention of returning to their own country. This reduced the party from four thousand to three thousand, during the period they were closely pursued by Major Smith, of the 14th Regiment Madras Native Infantry, whom Colonel Wilson had detached from the reserve to march to the south of the Beema; Major Smith came up with the enemy on the Paiza, after the admirable march which has already been reported to your Excellency, and beat him up at Patra, tra, as recounted to your Excellency in the same dispatch. This occasioned fresh desertions to a great extent; many of the fugitives came back to Poonah, and the body was now reduced to two thousand. This body was taken up by Colonel Milnes on the Godavery, as reported in his dispatch* of the 19th, transmitted to Mr. Adam, and pursued down the Rajapoor Ghaut into Candeish, by a detachment of three hundred men under the command of Captain Swayne, of the 13th Regiment Madras Native Infantry; at this place they were taken up by the Vinchookur, whose own account of his proceeding I have the honour to inclose. He states himself to have taken many horses, but does not mention any loss on either side. During the period of this pursuit the body of freebooters that had been forming in Candeish, was defeated by Captain Davies. On first receiving authentic intelligence of the commencement of this part of the insurrection, I suggested to Mr. Russell, that the reformed horse should if possible be prepared to check it. The reformed horse were then acting against the Naiks in Berar, but orders for their recall were immediately transmitted and as promptly executed, so that the first division of them arrived on the frontier of Candeish, just as the banditti were assuming a tangible form. The gallant conduct of the Nizam's horse, and the complete rout of the insurgents that ensued, have already been reported to your Excellency. The fugitives from this defeat joined the party from the southward, and shared in the losses it met with at the hands of the Vinchookur.

It appears to have been the intention of both parties to form a junction, after which, by the accounts of the prisoners, they were to have come to Poonah, but probably their plan was to have plu-dered the country and to have taken advantage of any opening that might afford them a prospect of success against any of our detachments or their supplies.

A body of the insurgents has long been mentioned as having descended into the south of the Concan ; they have lately moved north as far as Rooce Ashtamee, and the fear of their approach has occasioned the desertion of the villages on the Bombay road ; two companies of native infantry marched from Poonah this morning to keep open the communication.

Extract of a Letter from the Vinchoor, Iageerdar.*

I set off on Saturday, at night, in pursuit of the troops that had come from Mahadeo, which amounted to two thousand horse, and two or three hundred foot : they effected a junction with the other rebels from Gunnaishpoor, (who had previously been defeated by the Nizam's troops,) I came in sight of them at last, when they immediately took to flight, and were pursued for several coss, till I totally dispersed them and took about five hundred horses : this done I halted on Saturday morning at Jaunderee, and remained there all day ; on Monday I marched to Lassoer and shall move on Tuesday to Vinchoor.
